RE: STAFF REGARDING BAD LANGUAGE

It has been brought to the management's attention that some individuals have been using foul and abusive language during the execution of their duties. Due to complaints from some of the more sensitive staff, this type of language can no longer be tolerated. www.ssrichardmontgomery.com

However, the management realizes the importance of staff being able to express their feelings when communicating with other employees. To this end, our Human Resources department have compiled a list of code phrase replacements so that the proper exchange of ideas and information can continue in an effective manner without offence to our more easily offended employees. The phrases are as follows:

OLD PHRASE	NEW PHRASE
Absolutely no fucking chance	I'm fairly sure that's not feasible
You lying cunt	Are you quite sure about that?
Tell someone who gives a fuck	Have you informed the management about that?
